KELOWNA TOBACCO

Before Parliament

We are in receipt of a package of pamphlets containing evidence on the subject of Canadian tobacco products, taken before the Select Standing Committee on agriculture of the Dominion House of Commons in March last. Mr. Duncan Ross, our member, is one of the Committee and as such took a keen interest in the proceedings, particularly in the evidence of Mr. Felix Charlan, in relation to Kelowna tobacco. We quote below the most interesting portions of the statements in regard to the tobacco grown in this valley, and shall be glad to distribute copies of the report, which extends to 80 pages, to any callers at our office.

Mr. F. Charlan:

Last year the attention of the committee was called to the growing of tobacco in British Columbia. I had the opportunity in the fall of visiting the valley of Kelowna, and of looking over the districts in which tobacco is being grown.

The tobacco I saw in Kelowna is grown from seed imported from Cuba, and renewed every third year. The quality of the products is such that they may, up to a certain extent, be compared to second class Havana. They would do splendidly as fillers for domestic cigars, which might command a relatively high price; and if—as is claimed by some opponents of Canadian tobacco—the Quebec seed leaf could never be utilized except as binders in the manufacture of cigars, the British Columbia tobacco will supply the fillers. We have now, therefore, leaving out the wrappers, which generally consists of a Sumatra or Java leaf, all the elements necessary in the cigar manufacturing industry, viz.: fillers in British Columbia, binders in Quebec (Comstock and Havana seed leaf).

It is not yet known whether this industry can be carried on profitably in British Columbia owing to the price and the scarcity of help. However, a company with rather powerful means has just organized in Kelowna for the purpose of developing the growing of tobacco on a truly rational and commercial basis, and we will soon be in a position to know what future is in store for the tobacco growing industry in the Okanagan valley proper, or on the hills of various heights which surround it, and in which many good soils are to be found. The irrigation will have to be studied closely, and may give very good results. The company proposes to experiment with the growing of tobacco under canvas covers, and there is hope that the latter may prove advantageous.

By Mr. Ross (Yale Cariboo):

Q. As I understand it there is a cigar made out of Kelowna B. C. tobacco. The tobacco was especially selected by Mr. Charlan, who also looked after the curing and saw that the cigars were properly made. Now, as a cigar smoker of many years' experience and wonderful variety, I am bound to say that the Kelowna cigar is as well made and of as good flavor and quantity as the very best Havana cigar. Perhaps I should not say the very best, but anybody who will take that cigar will say it is as well made and of as good quality as a Havana cigar. Now that cigar, as I understand it (exhibiting cigar), is made of Canadian tobacco.

Mr. Clarke.—Altogether?

Mr. Ross (Yale Cariboo).—It is altogether made of Canadian tobacco.

A. The wrapper is of Sumatra leaf, but you have a Canadian filler and a Canadian binder.

Q. If that can be done once it can be done all the time. How did you get such good results from Canadian tobacco? The cigar manufacturers tell us, or some of them do, that they cannot use Canadian tobacco. Here is a good cigar made from Canadian tobacco and I will leave it to any man to say whether it is not as good a cigar as he wants to smoke. The question is—how do you get such good results?

A. By curing the tobacco properly and by sweating it in the right way. The only thing we lack in Canada is a good packing house.

Q. Will you please tell us where you got the tobacco, the kind of tobacco it is, under what conditions it was grown, what you did to see that it was cured properly, and then what was used in the making of the cigar?

A. The tobacco was grown in Kelowna, British Columbia.

Q. That is the filler?

A. Yes, the filler. The binder must be a Comstock Spanish tobacco grown in Quebec, and the wrapper is Sumatra Leaf. The filler was grown in British Columbia about four or five years ago by Mr. Holman. It was sweated by Mr. Holman in the best condition possible and was sent to a good cigar manufacturer in Montreal and the product is what we now show you. The tobacco is grown from Cuban seed. The Cuban seed is imported by Canadian growers and grown for one year only for the production of seed. The first crop gives such a very small leaf that it would not pay; it is better to grow seed only from it. For tobacco growing the grower uses seed of the second or third year, which produces a larger leaf. After the first year he has a crop of Canadian seed, but he must change his seed about every three or four years, because as the leaf increases in size the flavor diminishes.

Q. Do you say that the filler of this cigar which we have here is grown from Cuban seed?

A. From second years' growth developed from Cuban seed.

Q. The seed originally came from Cuba?

A. Yes, from Cuba.

Q. It was planted in Kelowna?

A. Yes.

Q. And the filler was grown in Kelowna?

A. Yes.

Q. You took that tobacco for the filler down to Montreal?

A. Yes.

Q. As I understand it the principal part of the cigar is the filler. Now who made the cigar?

A. Mr. Cusson, Montreal.

Q. He used a Canadian filler, a Canadian binder and a Sumatra wrapper?

A. Yes.

Q. The result is that you got as good a cigar as anybody wants to smoke?

A. Yes, I consider this cigar is equal to any 10 cent cigar.

IRRIGATING SIDE HILLS

John G. Hall, in "Irrigation Age"

For the inexperienced the side hill is a difficult thing to contend with. The chief difficulties which arise are due to the swiftness of the water which causes the water to pile up in one place and renders the making of a dam to throw it out on the land a very hard problem.

In planting a row crop except where there is a quick fall in one direction the rows are planted diagonally in order to make the grade less steep for irrigating. If possible, a grade of an inch and a half fall to a hundred feet is the best grade for irrigating the row crop. Arrange at the head ditch to turn out the water in small streams because the steeper the pitch to the rows the faster the water will run, so for this reason the water in each row must be diminished in order that it may take as long a time as possible to irrigate to the end of the row. Two reasons are given for this, first, in slow irrigating the dirt is not washed away from the plant; second, the ground is soaked well on steep places by the water being held a long time.

In grain fields the ditches through the field should be run nearly straight down the hill with just a slight angle to one side. The reason for this is so that when the water is dammed up and thrown out it will run across the land to the other side and at the same time will be kept within the confines of the ditch. When the water is turned out for a short distance the dam should be moved farther down the ditch and the water again thrown out so it will lap onto the space irrigated by the previous dam. Continue in this way irrigating one land at a time until the whole field is irrigated.

If water is plentiful two lands at a time may be handled by one irrigator.

THE IRRIGATION CONVENTION Some Impressions

Kelowna, B. C., Aug. 29, 1908

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,

Commenting on the Irrigation Convention lately held in Vernon, I waited until now in hopes that some one more able than I am would take the matter up. I am not going to go into it in detail, but will simply touch on what I consider the most important points.
When I went there I had no idea what course the Convention would take, but at the second meeting, which was held Monday night, the course could be quite easily seen.

The first meeting included the president's opening address, an address of welcome by Mayor Timmins, election of chairman for session, appointment of committees on credentials and resolutions, &c. Adjournment was then taken until 8 o'- clock. Mr. Bennett from Calgary, representing the C. P. R., was elected chairman for the session on Monday night, and called upon Mr. Dennis from Calgary, also representing the C. P. R.

Mr. Dennis said when the C. P. R. first thought of going into the irrigation business they took up and examined the Dominion Irrigation Act, and found it amounted to nothing. They then sent men to New and Old Mexico, Colorado, California, Utah and in fact to every place on the continent where irrigation is carried on, to study it and see how it is done. They then drew up an Irrigation Act and presented it to the Dominion government for approval, and the Dominion accepted it and it is now the Dominion Irrigation Act. He condemned the B. C. Irrigation Act entirely because the government were granting records for water that they could not deliver. Every creek in the country was recorded ten times over.

For instance, a man comes to a creek that has about 100 inches of water in it and he records 800 inches of water in that creek, which only has one hundred, and half a dozen more men come along, go to the government office and record 300 inches apiece on this same creek. The government takes their money for this water that never was in the creek; how are they going to deliver it? That is, the government takes money for water that they cannot deliver for the simple reason that they never had it to deliver. He advocated the confiscation of all the old records and starting with a new act. He said that the B. C. government should get their streams surveyed and find out what water they had, also what land they had to use it on, which would establish a basis for companies to work on.

The debate nearly all next day was as to whether the water should remain public property or be handed over to private companies. Of course I am in favour of public ownership, and did what I could to hold it for the public in that I acted just as if I was doing it for myself; for I believe that what is good for the people in general is good for me. And I also believe that the C. P. R. know a good thing when they see it, and I know that if the C. P. R. owned the water, it would be a cold day when they allowed any government to get hold of it. If the C. P. R. can do things better than our government can, let us fire the present government and put the C. P. R. in their place, for there is no use of our paying an incompetent government and in-trusting them with things that they cannot do. We are simply paying the government for doing a thing for us and they get the C. P. R. to do it.

The way we were treated by the Vernon, Coldstream, Ranch and C. P.
R. people I am not going to try to describe, for I could not if I tried. Anyway, I am not used to such treatment and part of the time I could not believe it was myself but I must be some one else.

Yours truly,
ALEX. McLENNAN.

MANHATTAN BEACH NOTES

The "Sand Rats" of Manhattan Beach, together with a number of their friends from town, gave Mayor and Mrs. Sutherland a surprise at their home last Friday evening.
About nine o'clock, Mr. Frank De-Hart's launch, "Grace Darling," landed on the beach in front of the Mayor's house, and soon all the passengers, with the exception of "Happy" Lloyd-Jones and Miss Fannie Copeland, were safely ashore.
While trying to prevent a can of the host's milk from being spilled "Happy's" foot was caught beneath the launch with the result that the lactical fluid was not saved while the gallant "Happy" pulled Miss Copeland in with him. He was urged by the hostess to put on a dry pair of socks, but for reasons best known to himself he refused to take off his shoes.

Shortly after the arrival of the merrymakers dancing commenced, and those who cared not to trip the light fantastic spent the evening quite enjoyably at cards.

SAN FRANCISCO OPERA COMPANY Will Play in Kelowna

In point of numbers, scenic effects, costuming, musical proficiency, acting ability and refined comedy, the San Francisco Opera Company is undoubtedly the best comic opera organisation that has ever been offered in western Canada.

Fresh from a record engagement of seventeen weeks at the Grand Opera House, Seattle, they played to capacity houses last week in Victoria, and are this week at the Vancouver Opera House. The entire and complete company comes to Kelowna for one night, September 10th, en route to Calgary for two weeks and then to Spokane.

Mr. Willis, secretary of the Western Canada Booking Bureau, has guaranteed $8,000 and transportation, which is a total of $9,000, to the San Francisco Opera Company for four weeks' engagement in this territory. This means that his share of the receipts, not counting local expenses, must be $375 every night. From previous records of appreciation shown by the people of this city towards encouraging a high standard of theatrical attractions to visit this country, Mr. Willis has confidently booked this magnificent attraction so that one night be given to Kelowna.

There are 37 people in the San Francisco Opera Company, which number includes many well known artists whose names are almost household words in the comic opera world of America. Some of the principals are, Teddy Webb who was principal comedian of the "Tivoli" in San Francisco for six years, and was featured in New York last season with "The Alaskan." Miss Mabel Day is the prima donna. She is a most fascinating young lady with a remarkably pure soprano voice, and is a clever actress. Last season Miss Day was prima donna with "The Gingerbread Man," and previously star of the Stewart Opera Company.

Eugene Viener is the principal tenor; Fred. Snooks and Chas. Browning, baritones; J. Russell Powell, basso; Frank Bertrand, second comedian; Ruby Norton, soubrette; Blanche Bryant, contralto, and Edinard von Buechner, musical director. The chorus is composed of sixteen pretty, shapely girls and eight good-looking men. They are not only attractive to look at, but they are every one good singers and graceful dancers.

It requires two 60-ft. baggage cars to carry the scenery, costumes and lighting effects used by this company, so that each opera is presented as nearly perfect as is possible.

Some of the productions carried by the San Francisco Opera Company on this tour are well known operas and musical comedies, but new to Western Canada, and include "Fantasia," "Belle of New York," "Dolly Varden," "Florodora," "Fortune Teller," "The Toymaker," "Robin Hood," "Strollers," "Wang," "Wizard of the Nile," "Singing Girl," "Serenade" and "Boccaccio."

"The Toymaker" has been selected for presentation in Kelowna on Sept. 10th, and is no doubt a happy choice for this play has a sufficiency of excellent musical numbers, and admits of more elaborate stage settings, comedy action and pretty costumes than any other of the repertoire. Love's stratagem is the key to the story which successfully weaves a pretty romance to a happy climax. Elsa (Miss Day), the daughter of a toy maker, makes herself to resemble an animated doll that her father has manufactured, and is sold by her shortsighted parent to her forbidden lover. No prettier conception has been offered on the stage of musical comedy than the scene of the toy maker's shop, with all the mechanical toys in action and the chorus girls made to represent various kinds of animated dolls. The action is lively throughout the entire play, the music pretty and the comedy screamingly funny.

The ticket sale for this engagement will open on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at P. B. Willis & Co.'s. The prices for reserved seats will be $1.50, $1.00 and 75c.

BASEBALL

Summerland Are Champions

The baseball game on Thursday resulted in victory for Summerland by 11 runs to 2. Kelowna began well, scoring a run in the first innings and holding down Summerland to zero till the sixth, when they allowed the visitors three runs. Kelowna scored again in the seventh, and the hopes of their supporters ran high, but the team went all to pieces in the eighth and Summerland had a regular procession on bases, scoring six times. The Kelowna boys could not steady themselves and failed to score, while Summerland piled up two more runs in the ninth. The "Summerland Review" ascribes the result chiefly to wild throwing on the part of Kelowna and good base running by Summerland, and the criticism seems warranted.

OKANAGAN GROWERS

Form a Marketing Company

An important meeting was held on Tuesday, in the Court House, Vernon, with the object of forming a company to act as a fruit and produce clearing house in conjunction with the local packing and shipping houses, operating in the Okanagan valley, and to protect the growers' interests generally.

There was a representative attendance from all parts of the Okanagan. Mr. W. C. Ricardo was chosen as chairman, and, after full discussion of the proposal, it was arranged to form a company at once, starting with a capital of $250,000.
A provisional committee, composed of Messrs. W. C. Ricardo, J. Kidson, W. R. Pooley, R. H. Agur, R. M.
Palmer, B. McDonald, J. Barnett, E. M. Carruthers and W. T. Shatford, was appointed to go into the matter of incorporation.

Mr. C. G. Guy, Vernon, was appointed secretary pro tem, and his office will be the temporary headquarters of the new company, whose inauguration promises to be fraught with highly beneficial results to the growers of the Okanagan.

KELOWNA RIFLE ASSOCIATION
Weekly Scores

The attendance at the rifle range on Thursday was smaller than usual, probably due to the threatening appearance of the weather which eventually broke into rain lasting the greater part of the afternoon. Although shooting conditions on that account were not very comfortable, the light was good and steady and there was little wind except for a brief interval at the 500 and 600. Some good scores were made, Mr. J. N. Cameron obtaining an aggregate of 90 over the three ranges with 29, 32. All shot fairly well even to the lowest, and practice is evidently having a beneficial effect on the younger shots.

The new double targets were put into service for the first time and proved very satisfactory, the firing and scoring being carried out with such rapidity that the ranges were gone over by 3.30 p.m., and it was possible to arrange a match between teams of those present under the captaincy of Messrs. J. N. Cameron and L. Gillard respectively.

The Cause of Low Prices An Explanation

Growers are complaining with some reason of the low prices for fruit current this season, and a few are inclined to suspect that the packing houses are making exorbitant profits, but there would seem to be another side of the question, and the shipping firms are forced to meet fierce competition in the prairie provinces, which heretofore have been peculiarly the market for the Okanagan. The hard times on the other side of the international boundary have caused such a slump in domestic trade that wholesale and commission houses have been forced to look far afield for their markets, and it now appears that American firms have invaded the North-West in deadly earnest, and are resorting to the "slaughtering" tactics characteristic of Yankee commercialism in order to ruthlessly destroy all competition, and have consumers, as well as producers, ultimately at their mercy.

We have been permitted to see a letter from a firm of produce dealers in Prince Albert, Sask., which reveals a very serious state of affairs, and the only weapons with which these "bulldozing" methods can be met would seem to be lower prices and lower rates, both by freight and express. To save the prairie markets loyal co-operation by shipper and producer alike will be necessary, and, once the suspicion is removed that the shipper is making undue profits, there is little doubt but that growers will accept the situation and give the utmost aid in their power to crush the invaders. An appeal should be made to the Dominion Express Company and the C.P.R., through the Boards of Trade of the Okanagan, to give the invaluable assistance of low rates, and it should be possible to defeat the enemy, whose success means a severe blow to the prosperity of this portion of B.C.

We subjoin an extract from the letter in question:

"Your letter of Aug. 17, outlining prices of mixed fruits received. Speaking generally we think prices will have to be lower. The writer has no doubt that your manager is familiar with the conditions in the North-West this season. As the writer sees it, it is up to the B.C. growers to get out and look after their market interests. Every jobbing house in the country, Winnipeg, Moosejaw, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, &c. has been bought up or is controlled by big American interests. These people are taking the B.C. by the neck and say they intend to flood this market with American fruit from Washington and Idaho until they bring the B.C. growers to time and into their control. They have learned that we had a car of mixed fruits from you last season, and they tell us plainly that they are entitled to this business and that, if we ship a car of your goods this year, they will run in a car of American fruit on top of it and cut prices below a possible basis. They are unloading a car of fruit here next week and are delivering peaches in small lots at $1.00, and say that their next car will be cheaper. In face of the fact that these people can pay duty and long haul freight and yet offer such prices, it looks to us as if the B. C. growers are holding prices too high. There can be no doubt that these people are getting control of a market that at this season should belong to the B.C. growers and not to Washington and Idaho. They have established warehouses at several points where they are unloading cars daily. From these points they supply the trade requiring small freight or express shipments, sending their travellers over the ground weekly. In face of this arrangement, it is impossible to ship fruits from Kelowna by express, and there are not many retail stores that can handle a carload."

Tour of South Okanagan Club

The South Okanagan cricket team returned on Friday from a tour which extended as far as Revelstoke. They were unfortunate in experiencing very wet weather at the point named which spoilt the game with the Revelstoke club on Tuesday, Aug. 25th. The home team won the toss and elected to bat, but the rain came down in such torrents that the match was abandoned when 74 runs had been scored for 4 wickets down. The wet pitch made matters difficult for bowlers and fielders alike. Of the Revelstoke score, Brier obtained 34 not out by dashing cricket, and Atkins made 16 by steady batting.

On the homeward journey two matches were played at Vernon, one with the Armstrong club and the other with the home team. The match on Wednesday with Vernon was lost on the first innings by 52 runs. South Okanagan got their opponents out rather easily, considering the strong showing they made in the cricket tournament at Victoria, but fell down themselves in battling. Against Armstrong a much better appearance was made, and South Okanagan won by 35 runs on the first innings. The weather her on both days was fine, and the games were much enjoyed.

A quiet but pretty wedding took matrimony Capt. Ridley to Miss lowna and the prospects of a very much extended market for the leaf.

Mr. Templeman was accompanied by

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Collins wishes to return her sincere thanks to all friends for their generous sympathy and kindness during her sad bereavement.

THE LATE JOHN COLLINS

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. John Collins, which took place on Thursday last at his residence in Kelowna. He had been a sufferer from childhood with chronic asthma, which eventually led to complications of heart disease and other ailments, and for some time past he had been in gradually failing health.

Mr. Collins was born 35 years ago in Norwich, England, and while scarcely out of his teens was forced to leave England for South Africa in the hope that the dry climate of that region would effect a cure. Two years spent there did not bring him much relief and he turned his steps towards Canada, arriving in Kelowna fourteen years ago. He was identified with the inception of the tobacco industry here in partnership with Mr. L. Holman, and owing to the handicaps beset-ting it at that time he suffered financially through the venture as well as by his investment in the Kelowna Shippers' Union, defunct several years ago. Latterly, he was engaged in the real estate business, which he prosecuted with as much energy as the state of his health would allow. He was at all times eager to advance Kelowna, and the district owes many good settlers to his active immigration work.

The funeral took place on Friday to the cemetery. Services were held in St. Michael and All Angels' by Rev. Thos. Greene, rector, and the church was filled to overflowing, while a long line of carriages accompanying the funeral procession testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mr. Collins leaves a widow and two children, to whom the sincere sympathy of the community goes out in their bereavement, and some near relatives survive in England.

that our fall stock of street and

MRS. M. TUTCHER.

Mr. A. Theodore Waters will deinteresting lecture on Saturday evening, in Raymer's Hall, on the subject of "Wild South Africa and the Boer War." Mr. Waters resided in South Africa for a number of years before and during the war, and travelled extensively in the wild parts of Zululand, and his experiences, which he illustrates by lime light views taken by himself, should be well worth hearing. See ad. in this issue.

Richard & Pringle's Minstrels will visit Kelowna on Monday, Sept.
7th, as advertised in our columns.
The company includes comedians, singers and dancers and other artists who present a most varied and entertaining programme of vaudeville. They are genuine Ethiopians, and their singing and dancing are such as only the real darkey is capable of. Another strong point is that they are accompanied by a fine band and orchestra, and all-in-all the performance promises to be one that everybody should make a point of seeing.

Preserving Eggs

Many people wish to preserve eggs for home consumption, so we give below a few methods which have proven sufficiently satisfactory to warrant their use: Eggs to be stored should come from hens that have no males running with them; should be perfectly fresh and clean, for filth of any kind adhering to the egg will prove the medium through which the other eggs will become tainted. A dry, moderately cool cellar is the best place to store them.

Water Glass.—There is probably no method which is more simple and more effective in the preservation of eggs than by the use of water glass (sodium silicate). Take ten parts of water which has been previously boiled and add to it one pint of water glass. This may be placed in a jar or tub and the fresh eggs added from time to time, always being careful to have at least two inches of the solution over the eggs.

Lime Water.—Another good preservative may be made as follows: 3 gallons of water, 1 lb. of salt and 1½ pints of finely slack-ed lime. Mix thoroughly and allow the solution to stand a day or two and then remove the liquid by dipping by means of a siphon. The clear liquid is then put into the vessel in which the eggs are to be kept, and the eggs added from time to time.
